

Santa Barbara Beautiful Honoring Beautification

A RED CARPET WAS ROLLED OUT for honorees and those involved in preserving, beautifying, and designing a more beautiful Santa Barbara at the 44th annual Santa Barbara Beautiful Awards presentation at the Granada Theatre on September 28th.

Five special awards and nine property awards were part of the evening that began with a pre-awards reception featuring energized jazz by Les Gendarmes du Swing and tasty delights by Mondial. After reveling in the beauty and opulence of the award winning setting at the Granada, the crowd adjourned to the theatre itself.

The awards presentation began with a montage highlighting Santa Barbara Beautiful's (SBB) year round activities in the community, as well as video presentations of award winning properties produced by Dana Morrow of RoadShow Media and narrated by the Hon. George Eskin. After the video presentation, Courtney Seepie, President of Santa Barbara Beautiful offered a cordial welcome. John Palminteri, Master of Ceremonies, provided a few chuckles as he was "delayed" in taking the stage, eventually arriving in a smashing maroon dinner jacket.

Special Guest Host Ryan Brown, of Bravo TV soon joined Palminteri in handing out awards, noting that he grew up near Santa Barbara and "regularly visits for architectural inspiration!"

The President's Award: Peter Frisch; Roger Phillips; Michel Towbes; Mark Melchiori; Steve Melsch; and Iya Falcone.

Marty Blum and Supervisor Janet Wolf, congratulated both individuals and property award winners.

First up was Business in Art Award an award originating from the City Arts Advisory Committee. The committee selected Art From Scrap as their fourth annual recipient. The award was presented by Judy Nilsen, Santa Barbara City Arts Advisory Committee and Ginny Brush of the Santa Barbara County Arts Commission. Cay Sanchez of Art From Scrap accepted the award for the program's contributions to educational outreach, recycling and reuse efforts, and the artistic community as a whole. The Business in Art Award is given to an individual or entity that conducts business in the Santa Barbara area and exhibits outstanding support of arts activity in the community, creating a stronger, more vibrant arts environment in Santa Barbara and enriching the lives of both residents and visitors. A handmade plaque by Dug Uyesaka was presented to commemorate the award.

Next up, Courtney Seepie, President of Santa Barbara Beautiful, presented the President's Award to The Granada Theatre. Peter Frisch, Executive Director of the Granada accepted the award. A video presentation by Road Show Media about the Granada Restoration Project was part of the presentation which honored the theatre for its grand vision that culminated in the restoration of a community treasure. The Granada, a performing arts cultural and entertainment landmark, now celebrates its opening after ten years of making a community dream come true.

The Santa Barbara Center for the Performing Arts spearheaded this restoration project lead by Harriet Miller, president of the board of directors; the individual Board Members; and Peter Frisch, Executive Director.

This world-class performance venue has brought back to life the glamour of the 1924 opening with dazzling detail in dramatically sweeping Spanish staircases, classic Moorish arches, and lavish lounges. The enormous chandelier, long stored away, is once again featured in its place of honor.

Three Santa Barbara Beautiful special awards began with the Heritage Oak Award for Lifetime Achievement being presented to architect Bill Mahan, AIA by Robert F. Adams.

William Mahan, AIA received the Heritage Oak Award for Lifetime Achievement, which was presented by Robert Adams.

JoAnn Mermis presented the Jacaranda Award for Outstanding Community Service to Virginia Hayes.

Patti Jacquemain presented the Playa de Santa Barbara Award for Environmental Stewardship to the Wildlife Care Network. Joanne St. John accepted the award.
